

We called him to us as we do from time to time with those we honor or seek to raise up through challenge and discourse because there was work for him to do in another time.

